

Images used for the slide show on this site www.leadershipsecrets.com.au

With the exception of those which are in the public domain, most slideshow images were downloaded from public defence sites where many defence members have allowed themselves to be photographed for general viewing or to complement journalists' stories and Defence news items. The selected images appear frequently for public viewing in various related sites, including Wikimedia.

I recognise and acknowledge that it is a courtesy to make attributions to photographers, and I apologise if I have caused offence to any photographer by displaying these images without having done so.

Should any photographer require attribution, or indeed require me to remove an image due to copyright protection, please contact me immediately on nicholas.jans@gmail.com.

Please appreciate that all royalties I receive from the sale of the book Leadership Secrets of the Australian Army will be donated to Soldier On as indicated in this website.

Meanwhile, thank you very much for your consideration.