

Photographs used for the slide show on this site www.leadershipsecrets.com.au

With the exception of those which are in the public domain, most slideshow photographs were downloaded from public defence sites where many defence members have allowed themselves to be photographed for general viewing or to complement journalists' stories and Defence news items.

Many photographs appear numerous times in related sites, including Wikimedia. There are hundreds of great photographs which made the task of choosing those most appropriate to requirements.

I recognise and acknowledge that it is a courtesy to make attributions to photographers, and I apologise if I have caused offence to any photographer by displaying these photos without having done so.

Should any photographer require attribution, or indeed require me to remove a photo, please contact me immediately on nicholas.jans@gmail.com.

I hope, however, that you will enter into the spirit of things and appreciate that I will not be making any money from the sale of the Leadership Secrets of the Australian Army since all royalties will be donated to Soldier On as indicated in this website.

Meanwhile, thank you very much for your consideration.